TELLS ROTARY ABOUT CHERRY GROWERS UNIT

The objectives and operation of the Great Lakes Cherry Producers Marketing Cooperative were outlined by Alexander Griest, Twin Oaks, at Monday evening's meeting of the Rotary Club at the YWCA.

Griest, a member of the club and son of Frederic Griest, Flora Dale, one of the founders of the local group, Saturday was elected executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Red Cherry Growers Association and is regional director of the Great Lakes Cherry Producers Marketing Cooperative.

Great Lakes, he explained, is a cooperative made up of 2,450 growers in Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and New York.

EFFORTS ARE UNITED

Great Lakes was formed "because of the wide variation of cherry prices from year to year and area to area and as a result nobody was making any money." Griest said, "Not only were the growers not making any money, but neither were the processors, so they could not spend much on research and development of new products."

Great Lakes members estimate their crops and name the processors to which they prefer to sell their products. The Great Lakes board, after considering the USDA

World Wars Tank Corps To Open Reunion Here June 28

The World Wars Tank Corps will return to Gettysburg for its biennial reunion June 28, 29, 30, it was announced today by National Commander John J. Conlon, Rego Park, N.Y.

The nucleus of this group, many of whom still survive, served in the first tank camp, the old Camp Colt on the Battlefield in 1918, 44 years ago under the command of then Capt. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

M. D. DeTar, New Oxford, reunion chairman, and John S. Carter, Hobby Horse Farm, Norristown, assistant chairman, have formulated a well rounded out program.

In 1954 the Tankers, at their first reunion here, planted a pine tree to mark the headquarters site of Captain Eisenhower and placed a bronze plaque to indicate the affiliation. Every two years since then, the Tankers have returned and held a rendezvous at the tree. This year they will repeat the ceremony.

WILL MEET IKE

Former President Eisenhower will visit the Tankers at an informal session in the Hotel Gettysburg the morning of June 29. In the afternoon the group will hold their ceremony at the tree.

Friday evening will be a fun-loving song fest titled "Swing Along With Everybody" at the American Legion home where dinner will also be served. There will be favors and informal reunions throughout the evening.

Exchange Student Returns To Spain

Miss Montserrat Castells, an exchange student from Spain, who has been in Gettysburg for the past two years, will return home this week, admitting that while she loves America she is homesick for her native land. She has addressed the following farewell letter:

Dear Friends:
As the end of my stay in your country is getting near, I would like to bid you good-bye. These two years in the United States have been a wonderful experience; experience that would not have been possible without the help that you have given me. My friends, I wish I did not have to say good-bye so soon. I hate to leave you, but I love my own country, Spain, too.

Sincerely yours,
Montserrat Castells
Miss Castells came to reside with Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo Bariga, Seminary Ridge, July, 1960. Since June, 1961, she has been residing with Colonel and Mrs. John Eisenhower. She graduated from Gettysburg High School this month.

FIRE LEVELS TABLE ROCK BARN TODAY

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn of George Wagner, Table Rock, this morning. Biglerville firemen did not immediately establish an estimate of loss, and Fire Chief Sterling Roth plans to continue his search for a cause for the blaze.

The fire began about 9:15 o'clock this morning. Mr. Wagner was in the milkhouse adjoining the log and frame barn and noticed nothing amiss. A car turned into the driveway and he walked out to see who the visitor might be. He then noticed what the driver of the car had seen—that the barn was being enveloped by flames.

Biglerville firemen used water from the nearby Conewago Creek to "wet down" the numerous buildings nearby and succeeded in saving the milkhouse and silo, although several doors were burned from the silo.

Originally a log barn, the structure had been converted to dairy purposes and there was a shed and corn crib addition which was also destroyed.

All of the cattle with the exception of two calves were out of the barn when the fire was discovered and the calves were reported removed before the fire reached them.

Destroyed with the barn were a corn planter, a new wagon, other machines and some crops, plus a ton of fertilizer and some straw and hay from last year.

Wagner told firemen he could give no explanation as to the cause of the blaze. No new hay had been stored in the barn.

Biglerville firemen, called at 9:15 o'clock, left the scene about noon.

Wagner took possession of the farm several years ago, buying it from Ivan Huff.

Two Candidates File Primary Costs

Three expense accounts have been filed by candidates with the county board of elections at the courthouse.

Two refer to the candidacy of Earl D. Warner for Congress. The York man filed his own account stating his entire expense was $2,634.48 given to the Earl D. Warner for Congress committee.

An accompanying form filed by Jennings B. Hartman, treasurer of the committee, states the amount was paid to Adams Associates, Inc.

The other account is that of Gibson Smith Jr., also a candidate for Congress. His account states he spent $733.20 in the campaign.

R. M. TUSSING PASSES AWAY

Reginald M. Tussing, 71, retired employee of the York Safe and Lock Company, who resided at Jacobus, York County, died Monday at 9:40 p.m. in the York Hospital.

The deceased was president of the Victor Safe and Equipment Co., of North Tonawanda, N. Y.; general manager of the Remington Razor Division of Remington Rand Company, Bridgeport, Conn.; assistant to the president of the York Safe and Lock Co., OPA in York during World War II, and district director of the I.

Surviving in addition to his widow are three children, Thomas C., Indianapolis; Susan M., Detroit; and Theodore M., Gettysburg; eight grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Frank Hunter, Columbus, O.

The body will be taken to Columbus where services and interment will take place. The Bender Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements here.

HOSPITAL TO RECEIVE FLAG ON THURSDAY

Flag Day will be observed Thursday evening when a 34-starred flag will be presented to the Warner Hospital by the Adams County Civil War Centennial Commission and the county commissioners.

The flag, a replica of that of Civil War days, will be given the hospital in commemoration of the various churches, schools, etc., which were used as hospitals during the battle.

A feature of the program, to be held at the flag pole on the lawn at the hospital will be a talk by J. Melchoir Sheads, local historian, on the various hospitals established in the buildings here after the Battle of Gettysburg.

E. Donald Scott, president of the county commissioners, will make the formal presentation and Walter Dillon, hospital administrator, will receive the flag on behalf of the institution.

BAND AND CHORUS

The flag will be formally raised on the flagstaff by the color guards of the Gettysburg and New Oxford Sons of Union Veterans. The flag pole at the hospital was placed by the Sons of Union Veterans of Gettysburg shortly after World War II as a memorial to its members who served in that war.

Final plans for the observance will be completed at a meeting of the Adams County Civil War Centennial Commission at the courthouse at 8 o'clock this evening.

TWO TEACHERS SELECTED BY BERMUDIAN BD.

Two teachers were elected and the resignation of another was accepted at the June meeting of the board of directors of the Bermudian Springs Joint School District Monday evening at the high school near York Springs.

Robert Boltz, Gettysburg, was elected to teach Junior High English at a salary of $4,500. He has six years of teaching experience in New Jersey and taught two years at Fort Belvoir.

Mrs. Dorothy Elgin, East Berlin, was elected as a Sixth Grade teacher at East Berlin at a salary of $4,500. She has 12 years of experience.

HOLD UP PAYMENT

The resignation was that of George Boyer, vocal music instructor.

The board discussed the problems involved in seeding the Bermudian Springs High School athletic field and rescinded an earlier decision to pay the general contractor, Reisinger Brothers, Carlisle, $3,500 on the balance due them.

As a result of a letter from the Middle District of the Bureau of Underwriters, the district will make required changes in flue and duct work at buildings at both York Springs and East Berlin to earn a reduced fire insurance rate.

Professional contracts were awarded to two teachers who earned "satisfactory ratings on their two years of probationary work: David C. Eby, social studies."

Brother Of Secretary Shoots Her Employer

NEW YORK (AP)—A brother of a secretary-angered at the attentions paid her by her $90,000-a-year employer—shot and critically wounded him in a railroad terminal Monday night.

The employer, Taylor S. Gay, 55, a vice president of the Phillips Petroleum Co., is in Beekman Downtown hospital with a wound in the abdomen.

His wife, Berta, 48, who is legally separated from him, visited the hospital, where he was in the operating room for five hours. He was given several blood transfusions.

The secretary, Miss Mary Mullooly, 42, witnessed the shooting and became hysterical in a police station. She was given medical attention.

PLAN EARLY SHOOTING

Her brother, James Mullooly, 41, who has lived with her for years, made no attempt to escape after the shooting.

Police said Mullooly told them: "I can't see any married man fooling around with a single girl. Somebody had to kill him. I took it on myself."

Police quoted Mullooly as saying he was going to shoot Gay two weeks ago but was scared away when a policeman appeared.

Mullooly was booked on charges of felonious assault and violation of the antiweapons law.

Mullooly and his sister live in Jersey City, N.J.

Gay is a resident of the exclusive Creek Club in Locust Valley on Long Island.

HAS DAUGHTER, 19
Gay's wife lives in Manhasset on Long Island with their daughter, Georganne, 19.

She and her husband broke up six years ago and he obtained a legal separation a year later, she said.

"He wanted the separation, I didn't. This year would have marked 23 years of marriage. It has been hard on me, hard on our daughter," she told newsmen.

NEW SCHOOL MAY BE READY HERE NOV. 15, BOARD HEARS

The Joint School committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board was told Monday evening at its June meeting at the high school that excellent progress is being made on the new Gettysburg Area High School building and that it may be ready for use by November 15, more than six weeks ahead of schedule.

The building now is 65 to 70 per cent complete, Henry Pettit, job supervisor for John B. Hamme, York architects, told the board.

"We have no problems and there are no foreseeable causes of delay," Pettit told the directors. "The job tempo has stepped up in the last two weeks. Painters are starting work and roofers will finish next week and final rough grading is being done."

$63,000 FOR FURNISHINGS

"I have never worked with a better group of prime contractors than we have on this job," Pettit concluded. He said a row of old buildings along the south side of Wall St. bought by the school district several years ago have been removed.

Later in the evening the school directors approved contracts for $63,000 worth of furniture for the new building. Bids had been opened last week by the Gettysburg School Authority and referred to the Property and Supply Committee of the school board for study and recommendations. Actual awarding of the contracts will be made by the school authority.

The list on which competitive bids had been secured included miscellaneous furniture, agricultural shop equipment, industrial arts, graphic arts and drafting. The list included 17 furniture items on which Raymond Homa Furnishings was low bidder, five items to the Keystone Cabinet Co. and one item to Zerling Hardware.

TO CUT PREMIUM

John B. Hamme Architects at York will be asked to prepare plans so that bids can be asked on extensive duct and damper work in the old section of the high school building, suggested by insurance underwriters as a means of cutting fire insurance costs on the structure by about $700 yearly. The work is estimated to cost upwards of $7,000.

The directors referred to the finance and planning committee

DELAY TEST OF SENTIMENT ON APPLE ORDER

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Agriculture Department plans to wait two to three weeks before testing producer sentiment on a proposed new state apple marketing order.

He made the statement Monday as the Agriculture Department closed the record on public hearings involving the apple marketing plan.

Last month the department held two days of public hearings on the proposal which, if approved by producers, would allow the Commonwealth to levy an assessment on apple production to finance research, promotion and public information to boost sales of Pennsylvania-produced apples.

RECORDS KEPT OPEN

The record of the hearings was left open until Monday for those apple growers wishing to file additional testimony.

Hennings must decide whether to issue the order as proposed or make some changes before submitting it to a referendum of growers.

The State Horticultural Association has led support for the move. Major opposition has come from a number of larger apple growers in Adams County.

A major feature of the order as proposed is the schedule of assessments—three cents per bushel for fresh market apples, three cents per hundredweight for processing apples and one cent per hundredweight for juice apples.

MAJORITY RULE

Also recommended is an advisory board of nine members to be nominated by the growers. The order would affect growers with 200 or more apple trees.

The proposal is the first commodity marketing order ever offered in Pennsylvania. It was authorized by the 1961 legislature.

Two-thirds of the affected growers voting in the referendum would have to favor approval before the order would become effective.

THREE DIE IN TRAILER FIRE

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — One man and two women died today when fire destroyed a trailer owned by an enlisted man assigned to the Navy submarine Skipjack.

Police identified the dead as Jimmy H. Rolland, 23, a communications specialist second class aboard the Skipjack at the Portsmouth Naval Base; his wife, Wandra, 20, and Mrs. Sally A. Almer, 22, of Hampton, N.H.

Mrs. Almer was visiting the Rollands in their trailer while her husband, J. M. Almer, an electrician's mate second class, was on duty.

Navy officials said the Rollands were married two months ago.

Police said the trailer was owned by Rolland.

The cause of the fire was not known. The manager of the trailer park said there was no explosion.

The trailer was parked at the Hillcrest Trailer Park south of Portsmouth off U.S. 1.

The fire broke out about 2:30 a.m. and quickly enveloped the trailer. One woman was heard screaming, but the heat was so intense rescue was impossible.

The Navy listed Rolland's home town as Orwigsburg, Pa., and that of his wife, Sandra, as Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

OK GROUNDING OF CRASH PILOT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has affirmed the grounding of the pilot whose Imperial Airlines plane crashed in Virginia last November, killing 77 persons, including 31 Pennsylvanians.

The board Monday denied an appeal by the pilot, Ronald H. Conway, from a decision by a CAB examiner upholding the emergency grounding action taken by the administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency.

The CAB said Conway failed to take emergency action in four instances and that this "constituted four separate acts of careless operation of an aircraft."

The Constellation had flown from Columbia, S.O., last Nov. 8 to pick up Army recruits at Newark, N.J., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Baltimore, and was on its way back to Columbia.

Two of its four engines failed and it crashed while attempting an emergency landing at Richmond, Va. Only Conway and the flight engineer survived.

More Germans Flee Russians Through Tunnel

BERLIN (AP) — A West Berlin newspaper reported today that a sizable group of East Berliners "crawled to freedom through a tunnel last weekend."

The paper Nachdepesche said the group reached West Berlin under dramatic circumstances.

Nachdepesche said it was not publishing details of the escape to avoid giving East German police any hints.

West Berlin government and police officials would not confirm the newspaper report. The West Berlin authorities have admitted such tunnel escapes only after they were certain that the East German police had detected the escape hatch.

Earlier police reported that unknown persons from West Berlin blasted a hole in the Communist wall through the city.

The blast occurred Monday night near Potsdamer Platz, formerly an important traffic intersection in the heart of the city. Since the wall went up it is usually deserted.

A police investigation was started.

F. P. WEIDNER, EX-TEACHER, RETURNS HERE

Frederick P. Weidner, who left here 37 years ago, is now moving back after 37 years as a teacher of chemistry and physics at Clearfield, Pa., High School.

He and his wife, the former Edna Catharine Mumper, have purchased the 20-acre property of Sarah S. Thomas, Gettysburg R. D., at Stone Jug, through a local realtor, Lee M. Hartman.

An account in the "Clearfield Progress" on June 7 outlines plans and past activities of Mr. Weidner, who served as head of the Clearfield High School science department.

In addition to his classes as a science teacher, Mr. Weidner also served as faculty advisor for the "Bison," the school yearbook, since 1925 when he joined the staff of the high school, Weidner graduated from Gettysburg College in 1925.

Now he plans to "build the kind of house we've always wanted." He served during World War II, from 1942 to 1946, as an electronics communications officer with the U. S. Air Force. He was recalled to service during the Korean conflict and assigned in Japan as top secret control officer for the Far Eastern Air Force Command. He retired from the Air Force in 1958 as a colonel.

He has been an active member of the Clearfield Rotary Club, is a member of several Masonic organizations and is a member of Pennsylvania and National Science Teachers Association and the state and National Academy of Science. He served as secretary of the Clearfield borough board of health at one time.

He was offered the job of supervising the landscaping at Dickinson College when he left Clearfield but said he turned that post down because "I don't want to be tied down." Gettysburg, he noted, is so near to so many things he wants to see.

"I knew that he had a secretary named Mullooly, but I didn't know it went any further than that. He used to mention the name and laugh about it because it was so unusual."

The shooting was in the course of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad terminal in downtown Manhattan, at 7:30 p.m., after the evening rush hour when thousands of New York-New Jersey commuters jam the terminal for trains running under the Hudson River.

We need three more teachers in the high school." He indicated that salary considerations are one factor that make it difficult to get teachers here, although the starting salary for beginning teachers was raised this year to $4,000.

The board also approved the granting of regular professional contracts to nine members of the school teaching staff here who earned "satisfactory" ratings after two years of teaching here under temporary contracts.

STARTED IN 1958

Organized in 1958 Great Lakes had no difficulties its first year in bargaining for a basic national price. The crop was short.

In 1959 the association ran into difficulties in making a national basic price hold when an influential broker offered lower prices, but secured aid from federal trade officials in meeting that problem.

In 1960 some New York processors decided to break the market. "Our processors were paying one price for cherries and New York was offering a lower one. If they could have gotten the cherries, our processors would have lost their shirts. We had to save the cherry market. By law Great Lakes could borrow $350,000, but we needed $450,000 to buy enough cherries to prevent competition from New York. The directors borrowed $100,000 on their personal notes. I don't know where I would have gotten my share if we'd have failed, but the market leveled out and we were able to sell our cherries at a profit and our processors were not hurt."

"In 1961 we based the price on the USDA estimate of July 20. Unfortunately the actual crop was 25 per cent above the USDA estimate. Great Lakes was set up as a marketing cooperative to sell cherries to processors. But we had to turn into a promotion organization to get rid of the great surplus. Our experience was wonderful. We joined with the canners and freezers and discovered there were a great many people wishing to help us dispose of our crop. Most of them knew of but one way to use cherries and, when we told them of the many kinds of foods that can be made, they were enthused. Our experience last year proved that if we can set up a good continuing promotion program we would be able to sell every cherry we could grow."

Income to its members has increased every year since Great Lakes was established, Griest said.

Vice President Clark Smith introduced Griest. The president, Dr. Richard Newsham, presided at the meeting. Rev. Robert MacAskill and Dr. Kenneth Smoke led group singing.

Some of the steps taken by Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to cut the deficit included programs to increase U.S. exports; to spur travel by foreigners in the United States; a ban on travel of U.S. military dependents to Europe, later rescinded; and encouraging other nations to shoulder a large share of foreign military defense costs.

Salinger said the White House meeting stemmed from a meeting between Blough and Kennedy on April 17. That was seven days after Blough had announced U.S. Steel would raise prices $6 a ton and four days after the increase was rescinded on the heels of vigorous opposition by the Kennedy administration.

Tax Resolutions Passed By Board

Tax resolutions and final adoption of the 1962-63 budget for the Straban Twp. school district were voted at the June meeting of the township school board Monday evening at the high school building here before the regular meeting of the joint school committee.

Resolutions retained the one per cent real estate transfer levy, continued the per capita tax at $14 for another year, increased the occupational levy from 10 per cent to 15 per cent and boosted the levy on real estate from 48 to 50 mills.

At an earlier meeting when the board decided on the tax schedule, it was pointed out that the township's school expenses will go up about $40,000 in the year ahead. About $20,000 of that sum is in increased joint school expenses, school rentals are up $5,000 because of the new high school and a new school bus has to be added.

The secretary, Oren H. Wilson, was directed to prepare specifications for bids on the new bus route for which bids will be advertised. President Hugh C. McIlhenny presided at the meeting with all members present.

STOCKS DECLINE

NEW YORK (AP)—A declining stock market accompanied by speculative strength in gold mining shares continued to be the pattern early this afternoon.

The gold shares are not represented in The Associated Press average of 60 stocks and this indicator was down 1.50 to 219.10 at noon with industrials off 3.00, rails off .30 and utilities off 1.00.

Gold stocks are a refuge in times of a stock downturn.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
July 4th Precursion: To meet the Fourth of July demands large supplies of tetanus antitoxin have been ordered for the sixty-seven distributing station throughout the Commonwealth by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health. Despite the nation-wide movement for "A Safe and Sane Fourth" which has been steadily growing during the last few years, the total number of accidents resulting in the dreaded tetanus or lock jaw is greater on that day than any other in the year. The serum which the Department of Health distributes to the poor is used to immunize the victim of cracker, gun shot and other wounds. When it is used immediately following the accident or within twenty-four or even thirty-six hours thereafter, the danger of infection is reduced to a minimum.

Toll Roads Doomed: State Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow, announces that he will inaugurate the first of the proceedings by the state to secure roads which are included in main highway routes but are owned by turnpike companies. The first action will be brought to condemn the toll road between Chambersburg and the Bedford county line, which crosses portions of Franklin and Fulton counties.

Pretty Wedding In St. James:
A wedding of exceptional beauty was solemnized in St. James Chapel at noon when Miss S. Flo Blocher, of Seminary Ridge became the bride of the Rev. Joseph Arnold of Brooklyn, N. Y. A color scheme of gold and white carried out in gowns, decorations and flowers made an unusually pretty scene. Preceding the wedding Mrs. Joseph B. Baker played "Album Leaf" and Miss Ruth Clutz sang "Shall I Wed Thee?" The ushers, J. Calvin Hartman, Maurice Bender and George E. Hartman of Gettysburg and Harry Kuhlman of Ursina, preceded the wedding party. Miss Mary Himes and Miss Belle Bream, the bridesmaids, carried white daisies tied with yellow ribbons. They wore white with wreaths of daisies in their hair. Justine Hartley and Lucille Bender, the flower girls, carrying baskets of daisies, followed. Miss Wanda Arnold of Brooklyn, the maid of honor, wore white embroidery over yellow silk, carried yellow daisies and preceded the bride on the arm of her brother, Ralph Blocher. She wore white chiffon over satin and carried roses. Rev. Mr. Arnold was attended by Rev. Robert E. Peterman, Hanover. The wedding was attended by a large number of friends. A reception followed at the home of the bride on Seminary Ridge. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold left at 2:42 over the Western Maryland for Pine-Beach, N. J. where they will spend ten days. On July 4th they sail on the steamship "Cincinnati" of the Hamburg American Line and will spend several weeks in Germany and Switzerland, going from there to Montevideo, Liberia, Africa, where they will take up work in the Lutheran Mission. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. J. O. Blocher, a graduate of the Gettysburg High School and

Today's Talk

OLD-FASHIONED HAPPINESS
All my life I have heard so much from many who speak of happiness as something that comes to the few, or as something that merely breaks luckily, and those who happen to be around get the lion's share.
In later years I have begun to think and to believe that happiness is largely a matter of personal philosophy. In reading the lives of really great people I have learned that they seldom trod the rose strewn path. They tasted of unhappiness. One of my favorite books has been that of a writer who passed through a most unhappy youth and manhood — yet he left to the world a beautiful record of deeds. Apparently he injected his happiness into his books.
Robert Louis Stevenson endured a life of physical failings and ill health, yet today he remains one of the happiest of writers to read. Once he wrote in one of his essays — "If a person cannot be happy without remaining idle, idle he should remain."
This great author died when he was but 44. But he left something like 25 volumes besides innumerable contributions to literature that have grown upon us all with every passing year.
There is a charm and liquid beauty in all that Stevenson wrote that attracts you to him. You feel you are in the presence of the man himself as you sit and read what he once wrote and recorded.
How filled with courage was this writer, too. Here is a favorite sentence I once memorized: "To travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive, and the true success is to labor."
How can anything that makes us happy be old-fashioned? Why should anything beautiful be old-fashioned either?
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Lost Opportunities."

WORK AND REST
Sometimes I think I'd rather be
Adrift upon a sun-kissed sea
Watching the white clouds in the sky
Like canvassed vessels floating by;
But wherefore fancy seems
To lead me in the land of dreams,
However gay the splendors shown,
I am compelled to go alone.
Sometimes when wearied of my care
And gray mists settle everywhere,
I think it would be nice to slip
From duty's everlasting grip
And turn my back on tasks and things
Which each returning morning brings;
But always dreaming thus I find
My friends I've had to leave behind.
And now I know 'tis not away
That happy long a man can stay.
No man wants absolute relief
From weariness and pain and grief
And doubt and fear and daily care,
For these are things which friendships share.
'Tis at the task and not at rest,
That man is truly happiest.

PASSING Of The Chaperone:
The chaperone will soon be extinct is probable. No longer does she sit back forgotten, beaming benevolently upon the young people assembled in her charge; nor is she yet a severe, silent, stout personage, dampening the ardor of aspiring lovers, reducing laughter and undue hilarity to a minimum with her overawing presence. But the question remains whether we are altogether wise in reducing her numbers to such an extent that she is in immediate danger of complete extermination. Girls in their first twenties — and even in their teens — run about with boys and young men at their own sweet will, treating them with a hale and hearty comradeship, which certainly makes for the gaiety of life, but which, by eliminating sentiment, acts as a deterrent to marriage. And it is not only the young men of the year 1912 who

BAD MATERIAL HANDICAP TO CAROL, JULIE

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Andrews and Carol Burnett are two of the brightest, most endearing and talented entertainers in all of show business. As a team, they work beautifully together.
But somebody did them wrong with the material, direction and photography they were given in last night's CBS special, "Julie and Carol at Carnegie Hall."
The concept was great: present the girls to an audience in Carnegie Hall and then proceed to have them satirize the usual type of entertainment seen at the venerable New York auditorium.
BIG DISAPPOINTMENT
Thus we had them poking fun at Russian dance groups — the Nausieva Dancers and Swiss family singers, identifiably labeled the "Pratt Family Singers."
This idea was fine, and the music was perfect. But after gay, funny starts, the comedy plumbed to banana-peel level and the funny words just weren't there.
The show, largely because of the writing and production, was a sharp disappointment.

A DIRTY TRICK
NBC played a dirty trick on Sunday viewers during its coverage of the $100,000 golf tournament from Upper Montclair, N.J. The announcer built up the suspense around Jack Nicklaus, repeatedly remarking that Nicklaus, a powerful hitter, had a chance to catch up with the front runners on the long 18th hole.
Nicklaus drove onto the green in two spectacular shots—but we didn't see them because NBC chose those dramatic moments to cut away from the match and regale us with a whole clutch of commercials.

GIVE VIEWS ON ATOMIC ARMS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Although the United States has re-evaluated its need for conventional warfare, atomic weapons still would be used if necessary, President Kennedy's military advisor said Monday.
But Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, speaking at the University of Pittsburgh commencement, said the country no longer relies on atomic weapons and massive retaliation for primary security.
He added,
"There is no justification for thinking that the development of conventional strength implies an unwillingness to use atomic weapons if they are clearly required."
Taylor said the western nations have been forced to train their forces in guerrilla methods because of the Communist advances through guerrilla warfare in Vietnam and other Southeast Asian nations.
"These forces give our leaders a flexibility of decision and an ability to apply force commensurate with the nature of the challenge," Taylor said.
The former army chief of staff added that atomic weapons could be held in reserve as a last resort.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A United Steelworkers' petition to dismiss a suit by Nicholas Mamula challenging his removal in 1961 as president of the Aliquippa local has been taken under advisement by a federal judge.
Judge Wallace Gourley said Monday he will probably hand down a decision in a few days.

are reluctant to bind themselves definitely but their boisterous, healthy, humorous feminine contemporaries seem equally shy of "tying themselves up" as they would phrase it. It was the pleasing duty of the chaperone, by carefully guarding her pretty charges, to fan the flame of love and, by putting every obstacle in the way of the young suitor "To bring him" as old-fashioned mothers tersely put it "to the point."

FATALLY HURT
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Paul H. Miller, 36, of Connelville, was injured fatally Monday in a 40-foot fall from an electric power line tower into the nearby Youghiogheny River.
Authorities said Miller slipped while shifting his footing and re-adjusting his safety belt. He was an electrician helping to rig the tower for power lines.

U.S. FORCES TO STAY IN THAILAND

By SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will keep military forces in Thailand for the time being despite the agreement of neighboring Laos' three political princes to form a coalition government.
High U.S. officials, in disclosing this today, said they believe the threat of a Communist-dominated Laos has been averted, at least for the present.
However, the new Laotian government is expected to be too weak at the outset to halt the threat of Red infiltration from neighboring North Viet Nam.

RETAINING 4,800
U.S. troops in Thailand, which now number about 4,800, are being retained there as a protection against Communist infiltration into that U.S.-allied country.
The United States is concerned, too, about the infiltration of Communist guerrillas into pro-Western South Viet Nam via a corridor through southern Laos. This flow is expected to continue.
U.S. officials are hopeful that the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos can meet by the first week of July, or possibly sooner, to put into effect the agreements which will naturalize Laos and remove it from the cold war arena.

A BLANK SPOT

Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate of the new coalition government, is expected to head the Laotian delegation at Geneva.
There is still a blank spot in the Geneva agreement which remains to be negotiated. This is a declaration by Laos of the neutrality it expects to maintain under its new government of national union.
American authorities are now going on the assumption that the military dispute that divided the little Southeast Asian kingdom can be shifted to the political arena.

Ottawa's Mall Is Open Third Year

OTTAWA (AP) — The Sparks Street Mall, three traffic-free blocks in the heart of a major shopping area in Canada's capital city, is open for business for the third summer.
One group of merchants says wiping traffic off the three blocks hurt business. Others point to economic surveys which say the mall has helped Sparks Street stores fight the competition of outlying shopping centers and discount houses. Ottawa's fire chief also was opposed but lanes have been left this year so fire apparatus can operate.
There are 76 stores along the mall.

Leftist Is Leading In Peru Election

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Leftist Fernando Belaunde Terry forged out front today in most unofficial counts of Peru's presidential election but the three front runners remained close together. The final decision may be up to Congress.
Belaunde, 50, claimed victory even before the complete returns were tabulated after one of the most turbulent campaigns in the history of this Andean nation.
With seven candidates in the field, the top man must get 30 per cent of the vote plus one vote for election. Otherwise Congress chooses the president. Belaunde's vote in most tabulations was hovering around the 33 per cent mark.
Belaunde's two leading opponents—ex-dictator Manuel Odría, 66, and anti-Communist leftist Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, 67—were not conceding.

MONROE FILM IS CANCELLED

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's star system came in for sharp criticism today following 20th Century-Fox's decision to give up on "Something's Got to Give."
Executive Vice President Peter Levathes announced cancellation of the film Monday night. The development was preceded by the sacking of Marilyn Monroe on Friday and co-star Dean Martin's subsequent refusal to work without her.
Levathes was terse in his announcement, saying only that the move was reluctantly made.
But the boss of another studio commented: "The star system has got way out of hand. We've let the inmates run the asylum and they've practically destroyed it."
Members of the crew assigned to the Monroe-Martin vehicle said they hoped to run an ad in the trade papers headed: "Thanks, Dean and Marilyn, for putting us out of work."
Miss Monroe was fired for absenteeism. The studio said she showed up only five working days in seven weeks of shooting. The star blamed illness for her absences. On film, however, was her much-publicized nude bathing scene.

Says $250 Million Not Enough Money

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The president of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL-CIO) says union instrumentalists earned more than $250 million in 1961 but that was not enough.
Herman Kenin told the opening session of the musicians 65th annual convention:
"It wasn't enough money, nor is it as much as it will be, for we shall carry on more militantly than ever our fight for live music and the human being who creates it."
Canned or recorded music is making inroads into the live music field, Kenin said, and added, "Like death and taxes, it is here to stay."

PA. PRISONS' POPULATION AT NEW HIGH

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's state prison population climbed to an all-time record total during the first quarter of 1962, the State Bureau of Correction reported today.
Dr. Kenneth E. Taylor, deputy commissioner of correction, said the steady increase stems from a greater number of prison commitments by the courts.
It does not reflect any policy to keep prisoners in confinement longer and away from parole, he added.
MORE PAROLED
More prisoners were paroled by the State Parole Board during the first quarter of 1962 than in the same period of 1961 (522 compared to 485), but fewer were paroled by the courts (154 compared to 232).
The bureau said that the number of inmates of state institutions set a new record in each of the first three months of the year, reaching a peak of 8,265 in April. Figures for May were not yet complete, but were expected to show a further boost.
The total for April compared to 7,969 in the same month of 1961.

SOME ARE CROWDED

Of the total number of prisoners in the state institutions in April 7,022 were criminal court cases and 1,244 were juvenile court commitments. Most of the increase was in the criminal court total.
The bureau's statistics showed that four of the 10 state institutions were crowded beyond their capacity—particularly the eastern and western classification centers.
With a convict population of 418 in April, the Eastern Diagnostic and Classification Center was operating at more than double its capacity. The western facility was operating at nearly double its so-called "normal working capacity." The total was 242.
Much of the increased number of commitments, he indicated, came from Philadelphia.

Free-for-all Highlights Orioles' 3rd Victory In Row Over Yanks At N.Y.

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bean balls?
Who, me?

That was the general tone of the comment Monday night after the incidents that took place during the fourth inning of Baltimore's 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees and precipitated a free-for-all in which Yankee Manager Ralph Houk tried to swing at Orioles' field boss Billy Hitchcock.

Leading off the fourth, Orioles' rookie outfielder John (Boog) Powell was hit in the head by a Bud Daley fast ball, slumped to the ground, but remained conscious. He was carried off the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital where his injury was diagnosed as contusions of the head.

MARIS RESTRAINED

There wasn't much reaction until the first pitch from Baltimore starter Robin Roberts in the last half of the inning sailed over Roger Maris' head. The Yankee slugger started toward the mound, bat in hand and a fierce look on his face.

Maris was restrained by Orioles' catcher Hobie Landrith as players from both teams raced onto the field. Houk and Hitchcock wound up in a heated argument that ended with umpire Charley Berry holding Houk as the Yanks' skipper attempted to go after Hitchcock.

TIE FOR 2ND NOW

When it was over, the Yankees were in a tie for second place with the Cleveland Indians, who moved up by belting Boston 10-0 in the only other game played. The Yankee loss permitted the Minnesota to move into the top spot, a half-game ahead of the runners-up.

The victory for Roberts (1-2), cut by the Yankees earlier in the year, was his first in more than a year—since he last won for Philadelphia's National League Phillies, June 8, 1961—and his first ever as an American League. He allowed seven hits and three runs in 7 1/3 innings before Steve Barber and Hoyt Wilhelm finished up. Daley (2-1) was the loser.

UMPIRES MISSED IT

Willie Kirkland tagged a three-run homer for the Indians in the fourth inning and put them ahead to stay. He later added a two-run double in the seventh for five runs batted in. Bubba Phillips also connected for the winners in support of Jim Perry (5-3), who limited the Red Sox to seven hits. Earl Wilson (3-2) lost it.

The Indians-Red Sox game did not pass without an incident. Before Kirkland connected for his homer, Wilson was charged with a balk that forced in a run. The Red Sox claimed Cleveland's Tito Francona, running at first base, hollered "Hold it, Earl," causing the pitcher to stumble on the mound.

Baseball's rules state such deceptive talk is illegal. But umpires John Flaherty and Ed Runge said they had not heard it.

YANKS CROWD HOYLAKES LINKS

HOYLAKES, England (AP)—Thirteen more American golfers were scheduled to go into action here today in the hunt for the British Amateur championship.

They were among nearly 100 players still waiting to contest their first round matches on this historic seaside course.

The entry list is so big this year that the first round is spread over one and a half days.

Monday six Americans fought through to the second round and three more got by because their opponents crashed. Seven Americans were defeated.

The Americans currently share the spotlight with England's Michael Bonallack, the reigning champion, and Ireland's Joe Carr, who is seeking to win the title for the fourth time.

One is Californian Bob Falkenburg, now of Rio De Janeiro, who is known to British sports fans as a former Wimbledon tennis champion.

OPINIONS VARY ON BALTIMORE YANKEE FEUD

NEW YORK (AP)—The reports on the conflict were conflicting. New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock said his (Houk's) men were throwing at his (Hitchcock's) men. Hitchcock said he said no such thing.

Roger Maris said he was mad at Baltimore catcher Hobie Landrith, but he wouldn't say why. Robin Roberts wouldn't say anything.

And there was little love lost today among the Yankees and the Orioles after a beating of Baltimore's rookie outfielder John (Boog) Powell. That led to a Roberts pitch that sailed over Maris' head, and then a swirling melee on the Yankee Stadium diamond that the cops had to quell.

Powell apparently wasn't hurt seriously. He was taken to a hospital where X-rays were negative, and it was anticipated that he would rejoin his team in Boston tonight.

HIT ON HEAD

Powell was hit on the head by a pitch by Bud Daley in the fourth inning of a game which the Orioles eventually won 5-3. He was taken off on a stretcher.

When Maris stepped to the plate in the Yankee half of the inning the first pitch by Roberts sailed over his head to the screen. Roger advanced toward the mound, bat in hand, to discuss the situation. Landrith, who kept his mask on, rushed out and intercepted him halfway, along with plate umpire Charley Berry.

Houk joined the ensuing conference, then Hitchcock, then almost everybody, except Roberts, who surveyed it all in solitary splendor on the mound.

TWO ARE OUSTED

Houk suddenly erupted with rage, and it finally took the police to get him off the field. He and Hitchcock were thrown out.

Maris then hit a soft fly to right. "Hitchcock shouted at me: 'You threw at my man,' said Houk. 'That's when I blew my top. I knew Daley wouldn't throw at him.'"

"I said no such thing," Hitchcock said. "I said, 'My man's in the hospital.'"

"Besides, they've been throwing at my men all during the series. Just look up how many of my men have hit the dirt. I also told Daley he had better control than that."

Daley, pulled for a pinch hitter after five innings, left the premises early. His catcher, Elston Howard, said Daley did not throw at Powell. "Why should we? He's an out, man," Howard said.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In 1959 it was Davis, Hopke, Curry and Co. that bombarded Eastern League pitching with an awesome display of hitting and daring for the Williamsport Grays.

Today it's the one-two punch of Richie Allen and John Shockey which has replaced the big three of Jackie Davis, Fred Hopke and Tony Curry and carried the Grays to the top.

Allen collected a triple, double and two singles to bat in five runs and score two and Shockey belted two singles and scored two runs Monday night to lead Williamsport to an 8-5 victory over Springfield as the Grays stretched their EL lead to 8 1/2 games.

Jack Mollenbrey (2-0) got the victory despite going only six innings. Williamsport came from behind to win it with four runs in the top of the seventh, handing the Giants their sixth straight loss. Dick Slomkowski (5-4) was the loser.

The rest of the schedule was washed out by rain.

Make Record Bid For Title Battle

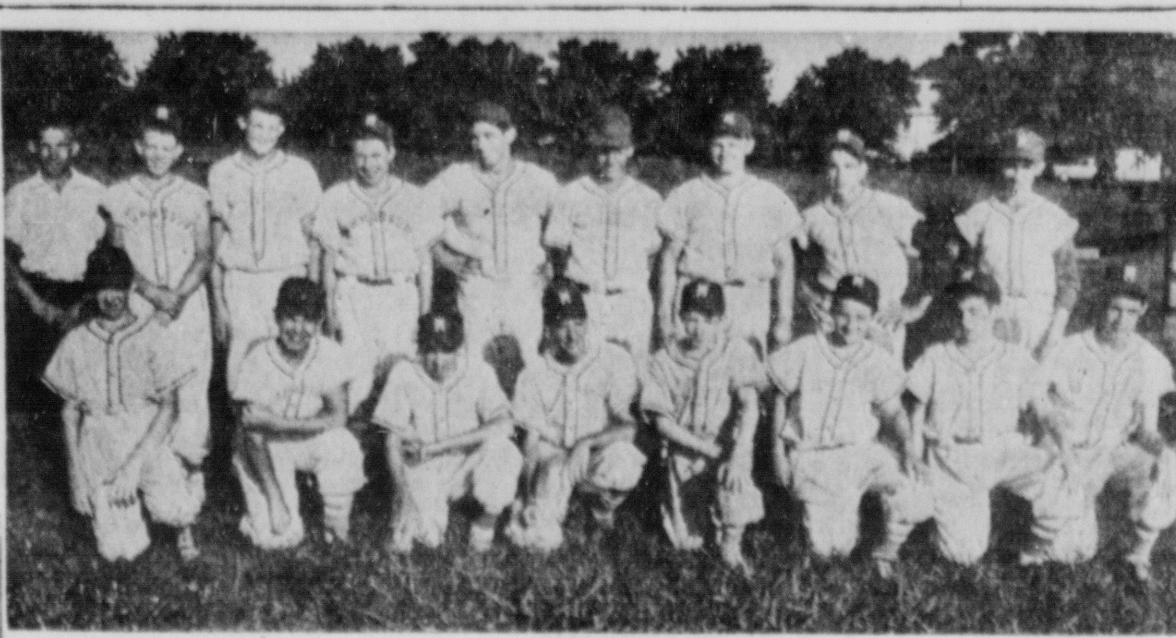

NEW YORK (AP)—The Teleprompter Corp. Monday night made a bid of $1,700,000—the highest in history—for the ancillary rights of the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston world heavyweight championship bout Sept. 22 in Chicago.

Promoter Tom Bolan said two other companies had made bids that did not match Teleprompter's. The company also handled the third Patterson-Ingemar Johansson bout. The price for that one was $800,000.

Bolan, president of Championship Sports, the promoters, said there was a possibility his group might handle the ancillary rights themselves. The rights include radio, television and movies.

Maris And Mantle Trailing On Homers

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are being hounded by the same hoodoo that handcuffed all previous 50-homer hitters with the exception of the one and only Babe Ruth.

Prior to 1961, when Maris socked 61 home runs and his Yankee teammates, Mickey Mantle, hit 54, just eight sluggers whacked 50 or more homers in a single season.

Maris has hit only 10 home runs in his team's first 52 games this year. He had 18 through the same number of games last year. At this pace, he will wind up with 31. Mantle, sidelined for the past three weeks with a leg injury, has hit only seven home runs.

Major League Stars
Pitching — Jim Perry, Indians, limited Boston to seven hits in 10-0 victory that moved Cleveland into tie for second place in American League.

Batting — Dick Stuart, Pirates, hit two homers—one inside-the-park, that drove in five runs in 6-1 triumph over Chicago's Cubs.

ITHACA GUNS FOR CROWN AS ONLY UNBEATEN

OMAHA (AP)—Lack of size, tournament hitters and desire to protect a rare perfect record isn't making tiny Ithaca bow down to the big powers in the College World Series.

The Bombers' aim is to become the first small school and the first unbeaten team to win the NCAA Baseball Championship in the 16 years of the event.

Ithaca, possibly the smallest school and only the second unbeaten team ever to make it into the championship, overcame obstacles Monday night in the opening round of the double elimination tournament.

The Bombers knocked off Big Eight champion Missouri, 5-1, surviving a nervous spell during the early part of the game.

FACE LARGE SCHOOLS

Joining the Bombers in the winner's bracket were Michigan, Florida State and Holy Cross, schools whose enrollments dwarf Ithaca's. Michigan beat Texas 3-1 on Ron Tate's 2-run homer with two outs in the ninth and plays Holy Cross tonight. The Crusaders edged Colorado State College 4-3 in Monday's first game.

Ithaca's opponent tonight is Florida State which upset Santa Clara 5-1 in the opening round.

Today's games: Times are Eastern Standard
12 noon—Colorado State College vs. Texas.
3 p.m. — Missouri vs. Santa Clara.
7 p.m.—Holy Cross vs. Michigan.

9:30 p.m.—Ithaca vs. Florida State.

LITTLER 2ND ON WINNINGS

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Gene Littler, who will defend his title this week in the U.S. Open, has moved into a strong second position among professional golfing's top money winners.

The $25,000 Littler won last weekend in the $100,000 tournament at Clifton, N.J., gave him total winnings for the year of $53,704, according to Professional Golfers' Association headquarters.

Arnold Palmer still is in first place with a total of $60,311, even though he won only $460 in the New Jersey tournament. Bill Casper Jr., won $950 to give him a total of $42,158 and third place among the top 10.

Jack Nicklaus, who won the $10,000 second prize, vaulted from eighth place to fourth with total winnings of $26,198. Rounding out the top 10 are: Gary Player $22,688, Phil Rodgers $22,330, Bobby Nichols $20,975, Dow Finsterwald $20,296, Doug Sanders $19,421, and Bruce Crampton $17,273.

SPENT $33,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, unopposed for the Democratic nomination for re-election, spent more than $33,000 in the primary campaign, the statewide Clark-for-Senator committee reports.

The financial report listed contributions of $43,500. The largest contributors were labor unions. Most of the money was spent on the statewide mailing of brochures.

The industry-sponsored program of growing trees as crops under multiple-use forest management practices gained nearly a million acres in the first four months of 1962, according to American Forest Products Industries.

BOOK CITES GETTYSBURG

Wonderful places to take children in Gettysburg are described in a new kind of guidebook for adults traveling with children.

Entitled "Wonderful Places To Take Children," the book was made possible by the cooperation of hundreds of people throughout the country who described their favorite spots to authors Jane and Theodore Norman and the National Recreation Association.

The Gettysburg attractions listed in the guidebook include the Gettysburg National Museum, Gettysburg National Military Park, Cyclorama, National Park Headquarters, Park Ranger Station, and Fantasyland.

The guidebook is actually three books — one covering the West, one the Central and Southern states, and one covering New England and the Middle Atlantic states. The books come in a plastic over-the-shoulder bag for easy carrying and on-the-spot service.

The National Recreation Association is the nonprofit service organization that for 56 years has been helping Americans make better use of their free time.

The guidebook may be ordered through the Book Center, National Recreation Association, 8 W. Eighth St., New York 11, N. Y.

FORD STARTS RACING AGAIN

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. apparently is off and racing again but the other major auto firms were divided today on whether to speed after Ford toward open emphasis of horsepower and performance.

Henry Ford II dropped the starting flag Monday by withdrawing from an industry-wide resolution barring support or participation in speed events.

"Racing is one of our biggest spectator sports," Ford said. "We like to have our cars win races."

Even during the ban, Pontiac enjoyed numerous racing victories—Grand Prix, Lemans, Monza—have appeared on autos.

A statement from Chrysler said Ford's withdrawal made the agreement inoperative.

A General Motors release said the firm "continues to endorse" the 1957 agreement while considering Ford's move. An American Motors spokesman said flatly his firm was sticking with the pact.

The agreement five years ago by members of the Automobile Manufacturers Association was unanimous. It banned participation or assistance in auto races.

The Rev. Lawrence Roller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Littlestown, was the speaker at the annual 4-H vesper service held at the Peace Light memorial on Oak Ridge Sunday evening by 4-H clubs of the county. The theme for the service was "Peace."

There was a song, James Rohrbach read the scripture and prayer was offered before the address by the Rev. Mr. Roller. After the hymn, "America, the Beautiful," the Littlestown pastor pronounced the benediction and then the 4-H Senate choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

FALSE STEP IS FAVORED

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—False Step, a New Zealand pacer now owned by an American, is the 3-1 favorite for the $50,000 International Pace Thursday night at Yonkers Raceway.

Eight horses, six of them owned by Americans, will start in the 1½ mile event, first of three rich races at the track this month.

The invaders are the Australian star, James Scott, owned by Ray Fitzpatrick of Sydney, and Patchwork, champion New Zealand mare owned by Percy A. Watson of Methven, N.Z.

False Step, who won the National Championship Pace last year shortly after arriving from New Zealand, drew the No. 1 post. The horse is owned by Jack Dreyfus Jr. of New York.

Other post positions, and odds were: No. 2, James Scott, 4-1; No. 3, Stormy Dream, 10-1; No. 4, Stephen Smith, 5-1; No. 5, Patchwork, 8-1; No. 6, Irvin Paul, 6-1; No. 7, Royal Rick, 6-1; No. 8, Apmat, 6-1.

The second and third races in the series are the $65,000 Good Time Pace, 1¼ miles, June 21, and the $75,000 National Championship Pace, 2 miles, June 28.

Russia Sends Fourth Ship To Spy On U.S. Big Tests

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has sent a fourth ship bristling with scientific instruments to spy on U.S. nuclear tests in the Pacific.

This addition to the Russian snooper patrol was disclosed today as the United States prepared for a second try at firing a nuclear device at a high altitude over Johnston Island.

Franco Arrests Hundreds Of Foes; Four Monarchists

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MADRID (AP) — Hundreds of opponents of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's dictatorship have been reported arrested in a sweeping roundup of dissidents of all political shades.

Five leading monarchists were caught in the dragnet as they returned from a meeting of Spanish oppositionists in Munich, Germany. Three of them refused an offer of exile and were flown Monday to forced residence in the Canary Islands. Two went into exile in Paris.

Those flown to Fuerte Ventura, second largest of the Canaries, were Joaquín de Sotomayor, an executive of the Spanish affiliate of the American-owned Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.; Fernando Alvarez de Miranda, 40, nephew of the Marquis of Valdivia and a Madrid city employee; and Jaime Miralles, member of a prominent old family.

FAMILIES BARRED

Families of the three men said they were not allowed to visit them or speak to them after they were arrested during the weekend. Under a new decree they can be kept in forced residence for two years.

The monarchist leaders who chose exile were José María Gil Robles and Jesús Prados Arrarte, a noted economist and professor at Madrid University.

Political observers said the opposition groups gave Franco the excuse he needed for a crackdown by holding the Munich meeting, which they labeled "ill-planned and ill-timed."

"By associating themselves with the left-wingers at Munich, the more moderate dissidents from the Franco regime, such as the monarchists, have permitted themselves to be tarred with the same brush as the Communists," said one expert.

IN STRIKES

Arriba, organ of Franco's Falange party, branded the Munich conference as "a reconciliation of traitors."

Official sources said many of those arrested were involved in the wave of coal field and industrial strikes that recently gripped northern Spain. They were arrested after the government issued a decree restricting the movement of Spaniards in the country.

Among those reported under arrest is Joaquín Fernández de Sotomayor, staunch monarchist and an executive of the Spanish affiliate of the American-owned Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

Another monarchist, José María Gil Robles, flew to Paris after being given a choice of exile or forced residence in Spanish territory. Jesús Prados Arrarte, noted economist and Madrid University professor who was given the same choice as Gil Robles, arrived in Paris Sunday.

UELSES MAY ENTER LASALLE

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — John Uelses, first man to clear 16 feet in the pole vault, may enroll at LaSalle College in the fall, it was learned Monday.

Uelses, the only man to vault 16 feet both indoors and outdoors, reportedly decided against entering Villanova, a track power, because he couldn't get the okay to work out his own training schedule and competition.

Uelses, recently discharged from the Marines, competed Sunday in the Middle Atlantic AAU track meet, his first meet activity since he suffered a double sprain to his left ankle three weeks ago. He could clear only 14 feet and finished second to Rolando Cruz of Villanova who cleared 15½. Both used fiberglass poles.

Villanova won eight individual titles but finished runnerup to the Philadelphia Pioneer Club which successfully defended its team title with 61 points. Villanova had 43.

Villanova missed sprint star Frank Budd who did not compete because of an injured left leg which he is resting in order to be ready for the NCAA championships Friday and Saturday at Eugene, Ore.

Budd's shadow and teammate, Paul Drayton, captured the sprints taking the 100 in :09.5 and the 220 in :20.8.

KENNEDY ASKS HELP TO BOOST U.S. ECONOMY

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — President Kennedy urged Monday that critics, business and political, discard "wornout slogans" and join hands with the government to pump new strength and confidence into the nation's economy.

Kennedy vowed his clash with the steel industry did not mean his administration is hostile toward business.

But in a speech prepared for Yale University's commencement, he said the government is obliged to exercise "watchful concern for our economic health" while business and labor must live up to their public responsibilities.

DENY MARKET LINK

Kennedy said economic problems bearing down on a free economy cannot be solved without separating myth from reality—and he said it is mythical to contend that government is big and getting worse or to argue that deficits in the federal budget always create inflation.

He responded by implication to charges by Republicans, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and some spokesmen for business that his policies touched off recent stock market gyrations.

Among false issues which he said are frustrating efforts to push the economy forward, Kennedy declared "is the assertion that any and all unfavorable turns of the speculative wheel—however temporary and however plainly speculative in character—are the result of 'lack of confidence in the national administration.'"

"NOT ALL TRUE"

"This, I must tell you, while comforting, is not wholly true. Worse, it obscures the reality—which is also simple. The solid ground of mutual confidence is the necessary partnership of government with all the sectors of our society in the steady quest for economic progress," Kennedy said.

"This administration is not going to give way to general hostility to business merely because there has been a single temporary

"Corporate plans are not based on a political confidence in party leaders," Kennedy said, but on economic confidence in the nation's ability to invest, produce and consume. Business had confidence in Republican administrations of 1929, 1954, 1958 and 1960, he said, "but this was not enough to prevent recession when business lacked full confidence in the economy."

What really matters, Kennedy said, is the capacity of the nation as a whole to deal with problems and opportunities alike.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two men from Boston — William Stanley Braithwaite and Edward J. O'Brien — are now both dead. A lot of people still alive owe them a great debt.

It is a debt which hardly ever gets acknowledged by more than a reference in a footnote in literary history. Neither was a creative artist. They published anthologies of other people's writings.

This is an attempt, if only for one day and in a personal way, to do better than a footnote — Braithwaite who died over the

With a brown patio dress (so new) . . . pinky flower necker, thought sandals in red-cabbage red.

After a bit of analysis, you will see that the key to those combinations is unexpectedness—the interplay of flash colors and neutrals, the subtleties in darks with pastels.

Such effects are worth working for. They give your fashions an individual stamp. And therein is a loveliness plus, as ever was!

weekend at 83 and O'Brien, who died in 1941 at 51.

Every year from 1913 to 1929 Braithwaite, a Negro largely self-educated, published a fat book called "Anthology of Magazine Verse." Every year from 1913 to 1940 O'Brien published what he called the best short stories of the year.

EXCITING PERIOD

Two things made these books remarkable: the time and the attitude of the two men.

The time, from about 1912 to about 1929 was the most exciting literary period in 20th century America. It was a time of literary revolution, protest, experimentation, new form, new views.

This writer grew up on the West Side of New York where Irish, German and Italian immigrants had settled, raised sons and daughters as first-generation Americans, and, many of them, still remained to see their grandchildren growing up.

This was not an intellectual environment. These people never had much time for schooling. They had to go to work young and they worked long hours. You would not sit around a living room in that neighborhood and hear about the new breath of life whistling through American literature.

"I WAS LUCKY"

But you could learn about it if you went to the neighborhood library. I didn't hear it from the librarian. They seemed too busy marking cards to read much. And I did not find new authors spread out on the shelves.

But I was lucky. I found the anthologies of O'Brien and Braithwaite.

O'Brien always seemed to include in his anthologies a certain percentage of the usual, old-fashioned formula short story from the popular and conservative magazines. I sometimes felt he thought he had to do it to get his books into the libraries at all.

REPRINTED PIECES

But in between he sandwiched the new writing, by men like

Sherwood Anderson and Ernest Hemingway, and experimental writing, some of which wasn't good. These he reprinted from magazines I had never heard of although they were great forces in the new literature—the Little Review, the Dial, the Double Dealer, Midland, Broom.

That branch library did not carry them. But once I learned of them from O'Brien's book, I could go to New York's main library, find them, and sit there and read them on Sunday nights. And there I would discover even more writers than O'Brien put into his books.

The same thing with Braithwaite. He was a traditionalist in poetry himself, but, like O'Brien, along with the sunset and flowers stuff, he carried the work of the imagists like Hilda Doolittle in England who were championed by Ezra Pound, which was long before he got into trouble; the work of Amy Lowell, Edgar Lee Masters, Carl Sandburg, and the work of Robert Frost who for long had been ignored in his own country.

POETRY MAGAZINES

Braithwaite, too, carried the names of poetry magazines I had never heard of but which I could also find in the main library.

All this would not mean much if it were just the experience of one young man in the early 1920s. I never thought about it much at the time, I guess. I was just happy to have found these books and get help from them.

Later, as I grew older, I realized my experience must have been shared by many thousands of young people all over America, particularly in areas where there was no one to guide them in their reading by handing them the latest in literature at a time when they were restless and seeking new insights into writing and the world they lived in.

To us, Braithwaite and O'Brien made a great contribution and I have always felt indebted to both of them.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

JAIPUR WINS $109,550 RACE

NEW YORK (AP) — Crismon Satan, the 1961 2-year-old champ, hasn't won a major race this year but he still could be a big factor in unscrambling the puzzle which Jaipur made of the 3-year-old title picture by winning the $153,300 Belmont Stakes.

First of all, however, Trainer George Potter must find what causes the Crismon King Farm's ace to lug in when he hooks up with other horses in a stretch battle such as developed in the final eighth of a mile last Saturday at Belmont Park.

With an eighth of a mile of the 1½-mile test remaining, Manuel Ycaza drove Crismon Satan to almost even terms with Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage, Admiral's Voyage, who had set nearly all the early pace, was on the rail, Crismon Satan on the outside.

Suddenly Satan lugged in and bumped Jaipur. Like a shot, Jaipur took off again but Admiral's Voyage answered the challenge with one of his own. As they reached the finish line, Willie Shoemaker dropped Jaipur's head in front to take the winner's share of $109,550 and give owner George D. Widener his first Belmont Stakes winner after 10 failures. Crismon Satan was 1¼ lengths back in third place.

GOP LEADERS EXPECT ROCKY TO BE NOMINEE

By JACK BELL
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The quiet assumption among most Republicans attending national committee meetings here appears to be that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will be their 1964 presidential nominee.
Behind all the hoopla of optimistic declarations that their party is going to win control of the House and add several governorships in the November election, there is soft-pedaled hotel room talk about the choice of the next man to oppose President Kennedy.
In this talk there is a strong disagreement on whether former Vice President Richard M. Nixon can or can't be counted out of the 1964 running if he wins the governorship of California.
INTEREST IN ROMNEY
There is a lively interest in what will happen if George Romney wins the governorship of Michigan. There is talk that William Scranton would make an attractive presidential candidate if he can take over the statehouse in Pennsylvania.
There is solid support for the idea that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona deserves at least second place on the 1964 ticket as spokesman for the party's conservatives.
All of this seems to shake down to the belief that, at this stage,

Smokey Says:

Good example!
Rockefeller is the man most likely to arrive at the top of the ticket—providing he does not stumble over some now unforeseen obstacles in his bid for reelection with a resounding majority.

Pay $5 Millions On Storm Damage

NEW YORK (AP) — The Insurance Information Institute says insurance companies have paid some $5 million to date in claims for damage caused by the storm that ravaged the East Coast last March.
About two-thirds of all claims have been adjusted, the Institute said Monday. It described this as an achievement because many owners of summer homes in shore areas were late in reporting

RULING SOON BY COURT ON REDISTRICTING

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Dauphin County Court has made up its mind on two suits challenging the Commonwealth's present legislative apportionment laws.

President Judge William H. Neely said the six-member court would issue its ruling "sometime this week." He said the court reached its decision and its opinion is now being written.

Four suits had been filed challenging the state's present House of Representatives and Senate apportionment laws on grounds they are unconstitutional.

INTENDED EACH DECADE

The court ruled last week it could not enjoin the governor to call a special session of the legislature to consider the matter. Two suits were withdrawn subsequent to the court ruling. The question now facing the court in the two remaining suits is whether it can order the legislature to reapportion now or postpone action until the 1963 legislative session.

The state constitution requires the legislature to redistrict every 10 years, but establishes no penalty for failure to act.

The constitution also spells out that once the legislature has adjourned, only the governor can call it back into special session. The court's ruling last week that it could not force the governor to call a special session was viewed in some quarters as a move to put off action on the controversial matter until 1963.

The House was last reapportioned in 1953, the Senate in 1922.

BUS CRUSHES 3 TROOPERS ON TURNPIKE

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — Three state troopers were crushed to death when a bus rammed their patrol car and plowed over them on the New Jersey Turnpike Monday in an accident involving four vehicles.

The driver of the bus, Raymond E. Peters Jr., 35, of Easton, Pa., told police investigators that his brakes failed. The big Royal Blue Coach Inc. vehicle struck a passenger car, careened into the police car and sent it smashing into a dump truck, then surged over the police cruiser and settled atop it.

The bus underwent a thorough check this morning by investigators from the state police, the Public Utility Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission. No official findings were reported immediately.

3 DEAD, 5 HURT
The accident occurred on the turnpike just north of the Passaic

River Bridge.

Dead were Troopers Joseph De Frino, 25, of Lyndhurst, who was driving the cruiser, Milan Simcak, 36, of Paramus, and Arthur J. Abagnale Jr., 26, of Cliffside.

Five persons were injured—Peters, the two passengers in the bus, a rider in the private car and the driver of the dump truck.

According to the police account, De Frino was driving his two companions to Interchange 18. They had been relieved from duty for the day a few minutes before the accident.

WERE MOVING TRUCK

They encountered the dump truck parked in the right lane of the 3-lane turnpike, disabled with a flat tire.

They ordered the driver, Nicholas Bellarosa, 30, Bloomfield, to move the truck to a wider portion of the highway.

As the truck moved down the road, the cruiser followed at about 15 miles an hour with its blinker light flashing.

In the center lane behind the police and the truck was a passenger car driven by Albert Donahue, Union City. Behind Donahue was the bus.

STOPPED ATOP CAR

As Donahue's car passed a rise, the bus closed swiftly and

Rusk Will Receive Degree At Oxford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will receive an honorary doctor's degree from England's Oxford University, diplomatic sources reported Monday.

Rusk will receive his honorary title when he visits Britain later this month on a 10-day tour of Western Europe. As a Rhodes scholar, he received a master's degree from Oxford's St. John's College.

When milk is used in yeast products, it enriches the color of the crust, adds moisture and richness and, of course, food value.

smacked it from behind, sending the car skidding into a guard rail.

The bus glanced off and wallowed the police cruiser. The patrol car hurtled into the dump truck, and the bus plowed forward over the car and crushed the troopers. The bus stopped, upright, atop the smashed cruiser.

A spokesman for Royal Blue Coaches, a Clinton firm, said in New York that the bus was a local between Allentown, Pa., and Newark. It was making a run to New York after completing its route.

OAS TERROR IN ALGIERS IS FADING By ANDREW BOROWIEC ALGIERS (AP) — Secret Army Organization commandos struck in a Sahara oil field Sunday in their scorched earth warfare but a Moslem nationalist leader said the terrorist fire power is fading. Terrorist saboteurs blasted a well being drilled in the Sahara, about 60 miles south of the big Hassi Messaoud oil field, and set off a spectacular gas fire. French officials expressed fears that the secret army, whose hard core now is believed to be largely French army deserters, would attempt to blow up dams, railroads and oil installations in their campaign to leave the country in ruins for the future Moslem rulers. Chawki Mostefai, a spokesman for the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN), told newsmen Algeria's Europeans were turning against the secret army fanatics. "It would not be rash to foresee a halt in the present events," he said. PLAN DECLARATION Premier Youssef Ben Khedda of the Algerian provisional government was reported preparing a "solemn declaration" directed at the million European settlers on their role in the new Algeria. "We believe that this declaration will satisfy everyone," said Mostefai. He declined to go into details. The European settlers were the backbone of the secret army in an attempt to block Algerian independence but there have been increasing signs they now realize the fight is hopeless. They still hold bargaining powers, however because a mass exodus of skilled Europeans would cripple the economy of the independent nation. New explosions and fires raged in Algiers Sunday but crowds poured out to the beaches as usual. Secret army bomb and arson commandos destroyed three more schools, an agricultural cooperative, a tax office and an Algiers hydraulics center. Thousands of records were burned. Gunmen staged four holdups, including the municipal gambling casino in the capital's biggest hotel. VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)— The Freedoms Foundation has cited 14 American educators for leadership in educational programs designed to promote a better understanding of the American way of life. Among the recipients of American Educators Medal awards Monday were Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania; Clarence A. Fulmer, principal of Wilmington (Del.) High School; and Russell L. Winegardner, principal of Sunbury Junior High School.
